Seeing Things: Collected Writing on Art, Craft and Design

Alison Britton's collected writings review the unstable place of craft in the spectrum of art and design. The texts included in Seeing Things reveal ceramics, her central concern, as an exploratory field that reflects on itself, in dialogue with many other areas of inquiry such as gender and cultural studies. Britton, one of today's leading ceramicists and an adroit and incisive writer, has chosen a range of her own texts from essays to book reviews and interviews, all of which ...

Alison Britton has returned to making pots after a year of working on her book, Seeing Things, Collected Writing on Art, Craft and Design. (Occasional Papers, 2013) Picking up the threads in the studio she has resolved to work with a basic simplicity, making a series of tall jars, painted white and black over the buff clay body.
